

Congrats!

You have just successfully called the Pdfcrowd API. However, it seems that you copied and run an example from the documentation which authenticates using the default credentials.

You need an API key to test the API, so please:

1. Sign up for a free test account
2. You will find your API key on your account page
3. When calling the API, supply your username and your API key

If you are logged in, the examples in the documentation will show your credentials.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate ask in our forums or contact us at info@pdfcrowd.com.
